Trump: We Want Hamas to Give Up Its Weapons

US MEDIA:

US President Donald Trump said that Washington wants Hamas to give up its weapons, adding that the movement has agreed to do so, and “if it doesn’t, we will take care of it ourselves.”

Trump stated that Hamas is searching for the bodies of the slain hostages, and that some of the bodies are located in tunnels.

He added that Hamas is already digging in search of the bodies, some of which have been buried for a long time, while others are under the rubble.

“There is no reason for the US army to intervene in Gaza,” Trump said.

Trump Again Threatens Hamas, Questions Israel's Capabilities

CNN:

CNN quoted US President Donald Trump as saying that Israel could resume fighting in Gaza "with a word from me" if Hamas fails to comply with the ceasefire agreement.

Trump said he would consider allowing Netanyahu to resume military operations if Hamas refused to abide by the truce.

He added that freeing the hostages was crucial and claimed that Hamas is now “eliminating violent gangs.”

Trump said he was investigating reports that Hamas executed innocent Palestinians, adding, “There may be gangs.”

He also revealed that he had restrained Israel’s army and government, saying, “If Israel were capable of crushing Hamas, it would have already done so.”

News Roundup: Rafah Crossing Reopening Confirmed; Israeli Fire in Gaza City Amid Continued Aid Crisis

Rafah Crossing to Reopen:

The Israeli Public Broadcasting Corporation stated that 600 aid trucks will enter Gaza with the reopening of the Rafah crossing today (Wednesday).

Israel reportedly decided to proceed with the reopening and aid entry after Hamas returned the bodies of four detainees on Tuesday evening.

Earlier, Channel 13 initially reported a decision not to reopen the crossing and reduce aid due to the incomplete handover of all remains.

Famine Risk Persists:

The Euro-Med Human Rights Monitor warned that the danger of famine has not left the Gaza Strip due to the continued reduction of aid, which reflects Israel's "insistence on using starvation as a tool of genocide."

The Monitor added that the current limited aid is only a tiny fraction of the actual needs and expressed concern over Israeli threats to reduce aid and keep Rafah closed over the issue of detainees' remains.
